

O1. Isolation and genetic characterization of mutants altered in the inflorescence development

O2. Cloning of the causative genes of the mutants altered in the inflorescence development

O3. Identification of new allelic variants in target genes for breeding associated with inflorescence architecture